

Project Milestone 5

Test Plans:

1) Test Login button:

- Test local access to login feature
- User's should be able to click a button to log into their google account. The page will then be updated to reflect that they are logged in.
- If a User has previously saved a schedule, it will populate and be displayed on the home screen in a portal.

2) Test Adding Class to personal schedule:

- Users should be able to click an add class button which should then open multiple dropdown menus in order to select their specific class. Then they should click a confirmation button which would then transfer the class they added onto the embedded schedule.
- The confirmation should add to the already existing classes without changing the already existing classes.

3) Test Google Directions API on classes added to personal schedule:

- Users are able to select two classes from their added classes which will update the map with the best path between the 2 locations.
- User is able to reselect another set of locations.